

E.D.

There is a woman - neither aged nor young who puts her thoughts in verse when time permits - she does not write to strut and fret her work - upon the stage - she writes her verse to Write her verse
- the task - fulfils itself She does not think her thoughts have legs to Last an age
- but does enjoy
what's written on the page She may Desire applause but listens to - her Reasoned mind
- which states that One - or Two will do and very different then - to showing more Her verse explores some Thought with insight's craft and satisfies - a lust to know
- and Teaches her those things she has - to Teach
